
AQuA Meeting Minutes

5/15/2025

Bev Hart opened the monthly meeting with the following agenda items and greeted guests.

- Treasures Report reviewed by Becky Chesnut
 - Account balance 15,958.08
- Lisa Flowers-Ross workshop
 - Members reminded to start collecting supplies from supply list.
- Mary Grande reviewed the process on how quilt show themes have been chosen in the past. A discussion was lead on deterrents for the low turn in for this year's show. And what solutions would help higher turn in numbers.
 - Some members identified the following as problems.
 - Time management getting quilts turned in by the deadline.
 - The month of the turn in. Should it be in February?
 - Fence didn't inspire them.
 - Difficulty getting the idea.
 - Once you get the idea, how to execution that idea.
 - Solutions
 - Members to vote on all the themes to narrow down the list instead of the committee choosing the final three themes and members then choosing the top theme.
 - Small workshops to share ideas with members who are having a tough time producing an idea.
 - Where do you get ideas? Pinterest, and other online forums, having a quilt and making it work within the word smithing of the theme.
 - Timelines sent out to keep member on task.
 - Send out theme earlier so members have more time.
- Theme for next year, majority voted Secret Garden to be the theme.
- Show and tell of the Fence quilts
 - Jacque Wiemer won the members choice award. She shared how she came up with her idea and what her quilt meant to her.
 - Lisa Flowers-Ross will judge the quilts 5/23/2025
